LESSON · GRADES 3-5

Book Trailer Studio

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Students will summarize a book's essence without spoiling it
- Students will select media that matches tone and content
- Students will record persuasive voiceover narration

MATERIALS

- WeVideo premium seats (via LoT request)
- Finished books per student
- Movie-trailer storyboard: hook, stakes, cliffhanger
- Stock media + music within WeVideo

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Watch two real movie trailers: find the hook, the stakes, and the cliffhanger cut.
2. Students storyboard their book as a trailer — no ending reveals allowed.
3. Select stock clips and music matching the book's tone.
4. Script and record voiceover narration: the persuasion muscle.
5. Assemble with title cards and a 'read it now' closing frame.
6. Trailer film festival; the library displays QR codes to the trailers.

ACTIVITY

Book Trailer Studio — persuade, don't summarize: hook, stakes, cliffhanger, cut. The no-spoilers rule forces genuine understanding of what makes the book worth reading.

Green Screen Reports

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Students will present research through composited video
- Students will use green screen tools effectively
- Students will write and deliver location-based reporting

MATERIALS

- WeVideo premium (green screen unlocked)
- Green screen (or solid green fabric/paper backdrop)
- PadCaster or any camera for footage
- Research notes from a current unit

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Demo the magic: film 10 seconds on green, key in a volcano background live.
2. Students research their topic and script an 'on location' report.
3. Teach reporter craft: present tense, pointing at the environment, walking the scene.
4. Film on green with attention to lighting and clothing color.
5. Composite in WeVideo: background selection, keying cleanup, lower-third titles.
6. Broadcast block: reports run as a news program with student anchors introducing each.

ACTIVITY

Green Screen Reports — report 'live' from the rainforest, ancient Rome, or inside a cell. Research presented with production value, and the pointing-at-nothing skill is comedy gold.

PSA Campaign

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Students will apply persuasive techniques deliberately in media
- Students will produce a message-driven 60-second spot
- Students will analyze editing rhythm and its emotional effect

MATERIALS

- WeVideo premium seats
- Issue research from a class unit or student choice
- PSA analysis sheet: technique, emotion, call to action
- Screening venue with a real audience

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Deconstruct three real PSAs: name each persuasive technique and editing choice.
2. Teams choose researched issues and define one clear call to action.
3. Script to exactly 60 seconds — the constraint is the craft.
4. Produce with deliberate technique choices, documented in a director's statement.
5. Rough-cut reviews focused on pacing: where does attention sag?
6. Screen for an authentic audience; collect response data on message recall.

ACTIVITY

PSA Campaign — 60 seconds, one message, deliberate technique. The director's statement requirement turns instinctive choices into articulated rhetorical strategy.
